🕒 Clock Change 🕒

A reminder that the clocks change tonight. At 2am Sunday morning, the clocks go back by an hour.

With the evenings well and truly drawing in, it's time to think about how to protect your home from unwanted attention.

- 💡 Consider switching on external lights, dusk to dawn units are best to avoid unnecessary electrical costs or those with PIR sensors.
- 🔋 Make sure your video doorbell, if you have one, is kept charged.
- 🕒 Fit timers to small lamps inside your home, particularly in dark hours when it will be unoccupied.
- 🌿 Make sure garden fencing is in good condition and gates bolted or locked when not in use.

Our NPT teams can provide further advice at our Have Your Say events. Also look out for information about our winter anti-burglary operation #OpGrotto

Our cadets were treated to another practical session on Wednesday night with a visit from one of our safety instructors. Joe is also a serving police officer and so puts these skills into practice himself everyday - he taught them non-violent postures, unarmed strikes, handcuffing, knife defence and arm locks. Each of these tactics are used in different situations according to the level of threat present.

I'm sure it gave our young cadets a good taste of what police officers and PCSOs do each day to keep themselves and the public safe 🙌👮🏻👮🏻👮🏻
